Ticino

If you're looking for a small traditional camping tent, the Ticino is very hard to beat. It is popular with group leaders as it has a generous height and ample space to store all the kit they need, as well as being robust and hard wearing. The double roof design gives superb protection against the weather as well as looking elegant. The two ends have gauze windows with covers and are middle and bottom zippered for ease of entry and exit. An optional porch adds additional covered space. This is a truly beautiful tent that will give you years of service.
